I, the undersigned artist/group hereby wish to join the FW Artist Collective. Fading Ways Music and all its partner labels/stores are hereby allowed to promote, distribute and otherwise exploit the sound recording named above, on a non-exclusive basis worldwide for FW Music Store mail-order sales.

Fading Ways will pay 70% of all net sales via its store's mail-order sales and any other distribution channels that we may come to agree on at a later date, including digital distribution. Artists are responsible for all shipping of product, both commercial and promotional, to the necessary warehouses as agreed upon. When warranted by its sales, Fading Ways will issue a sales statement to the artist, with a minimum of two yearly reporting periods but aiming at monthly reporting pending volume of sales.

Artist agrees to assist Fading Ways in the promotion of their release, as well as promoting the rest of the FW Artist Collective available at www.fwmusicstore.co.uk, via the spread of FW Music Store banners, links, flyers, posters as well their own regular touring, promotional activities and street teams.

Artist warrants that they have full legal powers over both the master recordings as well as the music publishing of the songs included in the above-named release, and are therefore able to enter into this agreement. Neither Fading Ways nor the FW Music Store nor any of its distributor partners are liable for any third-party royalty payments, to publishers or copyright societies, and this full indemnity includes any mechanical royalties that may or may not be due at the time of manufacture. All such third-party payments remain the sole responsibility of the artist, who, under this license to market awarded to Fading Ways, retains their full copyrights in the recordings. Artist, participating labels or their legal agents hereby fully indemnify Fading Ways and all its directors and agents from any third-party lawsuits that may arise in any jurisdiction, as a direct or indirect result of entering into this agreement.

Furthermore it is the artists' sole responsibility to immediately notify Fading Ways and the FW Music Store via email to nleyton@gmail.com and fadingways@googlemail.com should this criteria, or the artists' situation, come to change at any point in time. Termination of this license is up to the artists' discretion, with any termination costs (removal of distributed stock, returns, etc.) remaining the artists' sole liability in case of termination.

Lastly, artists signing on agree to lend their support to the FW Artist Collective by facilitating and assisting their collective's other artists by the sharing of local resources (contacts, touring, promotional, etc.) Music is not a competitive sport.
